At this workshop you will learn about:

- How fair redistricting helps Latinos elect accountable representatives;
- How California's statewide redistricting process works, and the role of the California Citizens Redistricting Commission;
- How you can develop a map and a description of your "communities of interest" and why this is important for a fair redistricting process; and
- Why submitting or testifying about communities of interest will help ensure your voice is heard during the redistricting process.
